National Marine Sanctuary Regulations

AGENCY: Office of National Marine Sanctuaries (ONMS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Department of Commerce (DOC).

ACTION: Final rule; interim final rule; administrative withdrawal.

SUMMARY: The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) published in the Federal Register on May 13, 2022 an interim final rule amending the National Marine Sanctuaries program regulations, which has not yet gone into effect. With this final rule, NOAA administratively withdraws the amendatory instructions and associated regulatory text of the interim final rule, and, in response to public comment replaces it with slightly revised amendatory instructions and regulatory text for a few—but not all—provisions that were in that interim final rule. NOAA, however, retains the preamble and the responses to public comments provided in the interim final rule. Even with these revisions, this final rule is largely similar to the interim final rule, except that NOAA retains the existing regulatory language on the definition of “commercial fishing” and retains the opportunity for third party appeals of sanctuary permitting decisions by interested parties in those sanctuaries that currently recognize such appeals. In addition, this final rule removes amendatory instructions for updating the boundary description and boundary coordinates for the Flower Garden Banks National Marine Sanctuary (NMS), which were inadvertently included in the interim final rule and did not reflect a boundary expansion that went into effect on March 22, 2021. This document provides responses to additional comments received on the interim final rule.

DATES: This rule is effective on February 6, 2023. As of January 6, 2023, the interim final rule published May 13, 2022, at 87 FR 29606, delayed on June 24, 2022, at 87 FR 37228, and further delayed on September 14, 2022 (87 FR 56268), is withdrawn.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The National Marine Sanctuaries Act (NMSA) authorizes the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary) to designate, manage, and protect as a national marine sanctuary (NMS) any area of the marine environment that is of special national significance due to its conservation, recreational, ecological, historical, scientific, cultural, archeological, educational, or esthetic qualities (16 U.S.C. 1431 et seq.). Since the NMSA was enacted, fifteen (15) NMSs have been designated. Day-to-day management of the National Marine Sanctuaries System (System) is delegated from the Secretary to NOAA's Office of National Marine Sanctuaries (ONMS). Regulations implementing the NMSA are codified in Title 15, part 922 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). Part 922 includes general regulations applicable to all sanctuaries (subparts A through E) and site-specific regulations that relate to each individual sanctuary (subparts F through T).

As the System evolved and new sanctuaries were designated, corresponding changes were made to the general and site-specific regulations. In certain instances, these changes produced redundant, inconsistent, outdated, or conflicting regulatory provisions. NOAA published a proposed rule on January 18, 2011 (78 FR 5998) to update and streamline the regulations, and subsequently published an interim final rule on May 13, 2022 adopting the proposed changes, establishing a delayed effective date, and providing an opportunity for additional public comment (87 FR 29606). This final rule withdraws the amendatory instructions and associated regulatory text of that interim final rule, but retains the preamble and responses to comments provided in that interim final rule. The effect of this final rule is to affirm much of that interim final rule, as this final rule is largely similar to the interim final rule. As such, this final rule updates both the general and site-specific regulations as contemplated in the original proposed rule, making the regulations more consistent, uniform, concise, organized, and understandable by:

- Reorganizing and consolidating existing general regulations published in subparts A (General), B (Sanctuary Nomination Process), C (Designation of National Marine Sanctuaries), D (Management Plan Development and Implementation, and E (Regulations of General Applicability) into a new subpart A (Regulations of General Applicability);
- Updating and consolidating sanctuary permitting procedures and requirements into a new subpart D (National Marine Sanctuary Permitting), which applies to all sanctuaries unless expressly stated in subpart D or the site-specific regulations;
- Reserving subparts B, C, and E; and
- Making non-substantive, administrative changes to the site-specific sanctuary regulations set forth in subparts F through T of 15 CFR part 922.

II. Changes to the Interim Final Rule

This final rule administratively withdraws the amendatory instructions and associated text from the interim final rule published on May 13, 2022, at 87 FR 29606,¹ and replaces them with the amendatory instructions and associated regulatory text herein, while retaining the interim final rule's preamble discussion and the interim final rule's responses to comments. The effect of this final rule is to largely affirm the interim final rule, while making minor amendments in certain provisions to respond to comments and make technical corrections to boundary coordinates.

As noted below in "III. Response to Comments on the interim final rule", NOAA retains the existing regulatory language for the definition of the term "commercial fishing" and for third party appeals of sanctuary permitting decisions by interested persons in those sanctuaries that currently recognize such appeals (i.e., Monitor, Channel Islands, Greater Farallones, Gray's Reef, Cordell Bank, Mallows Bay—Potomac River, Wisconsin Shipwreck Coast national marine sanctuaries, and National Marine Sanctuary of American Samoa). In addition, this final rule removes amendatory instructions for updating the boundary description and boundary coordinates for the Flower Garden Banks National Marine Sanctuary (NMS), which were inadvertently included in the interim final rule and did not reflect the boundary expansion that went into effect on March 22, 2021 (86 FR 15404). These changes from the interim final rule are discussed below in more detail.

In FR Doc. 2022-09626 appearing on page 29606 in the Federal Register of Friday, May 13, 2022, the following corrections are made:

A. Instruction 19 in the regulatory text of the interim final rule, appearing at 87 FR 29633, directed the Federal Register to revise paragraph (a) in 15 CFR 922.92. However, only the introductory text of the paragraph was set out and the remaining subparagraphs in the section were inadvertently omitted. The instruction should have said to revise the introductory text of paragraph (a), keeping the subparagraphs unchanged. In order to retain the subparagraphs to (a), NOAA publishes this final rule with this technical correction and makes the corresponding changes to the amendatory instructions below.

B. Instructions 29 and 33 in the regulatory text are removed. The boundary description for Flower Garden Banks NMS is set forth in 15 CFR 922.120, and Appendix A of 15 CFR 922 subpart L, includes the boundary coordinates for the Flower Garden Banks NMS. The sanctuary was expanded in 2021 to include several additional banks in the northwestern Gulf of Mexico (86 FR 4937; January 19, 2021). The amendatory instructions to revise the boundary description in 15 CFR 922.120 and the table of boundary coordinates are removed so the areas added to the sanctuary in 2021 will be retained.

In response to a public comment requesting that NOAA conduct additional analysis before modifying the definition of the term "commercial fishing," NOAA has decided not to move forward with changing the definition. NOAA will further evaluate the issues before proposing to modify the definition of the term "commercial fishing."

Based on the input we received through public comments, NOAA has decided not to finalize the proposal to limit third party appeals to only applicants and permittees in sites that allow any interested person to appeal. Instead, NOAA is retaining the existing language in the regulations that provides the opportunity for third party administrative appeals at Monitor NMS, Channel Islands NMS, Greater Farallones NMS, Gray's Reef, NMS of American Samoa, Cordell Bank NMS, Mallows Bay Potomac River NMS, and

Wisconsin Shipwreck Coast NMS (see subparts F through K and S and T). NOAA intends to continue evaluating the process for engaging with interested parties in sanctuary permitting decisions and may revisit this issue in a subsequent rulemaking process.

III. Response to Comments on the Interim Final Rule

NOAA received eight public comments on the interim final rule, which are divided into ten topics. Each topic is summarized below and NOAA's responses follow.

1. Comment: NOAA received several comments that expressed general support for the housekeeping rulemaking effort, in which NOAA seeks to streamline and clarify important elements of ONMS regulations. There was also support for specific provisions, including the decision not to consolidate the definition of "traditional fishing" and the decision to extend the deadline from 120 days to 180 days for a Regional Fishery Management Council to respond to a request for draft fishing regulations pursuant to NMSA section 304(a)(5).

Response: NOAA appreciates the public support for those provisions.

2. Comment: NOAA received a comment that identified a correction that needs to be made regarding a web page on the ONMS website that should be updated to include the new expanded Flower Garden Banks NMS boundaries. The commenter also identified that Appendix A to subpart L of 15 CFR part 922 should be updated to include the new expanded Flower Garden Banks NMS boundaries.

Response: NOAA will update the web page accordingly and, as discussed above, this final rule corrects the interim final rule to accurately describe the Flower Garden Banks NMS boundaries in subpart L of 15 CFR part 922.

3. Comment: NOAA received a comment requesting that it reissue the rulemaking as a proposed rule to solicit additional public comment.

Response: NOAA declines to reissue the rulemaking as a proposed rule. Although several years have passed since the 2013 proposed rule was published, NOAA believes the organizational and clarifying changes contained in that proposed rule remain relevant and useful, and will make it easier for stakeholders and the public to understand and navigate the NMSA regulations. NOAA accepted public comment on the proposed rule for a period of sixty days from January 28, 2013 through March 28, 2013, and NOAA received 28 comments on the proposed rule. Recognizing the time that elapsed since the publication of the 2013 proposed rule, NOAA issued an interim final rule with a delayed effective date that provided an additional thirty-day public comment period, which opened on May 13, 2022 and closed on June 13, 2022. The purpose of this additional public comment period was to provide NOAA with further opportunity to consider the potential impact of this action, including any relevant new issues or concerns that may have arisen in the years since the rule was proposed. NOAA received only eight public comments on the interim final rule. In total, ninety days of public comment have been afforded for this Action. Given this, NOAA believes there has been sufficient opportunity for public engagement to identify the relevant views of the public related to this rulemaking.

4. Comment: One commenter questioned the proposed modification to the definition of the term "commercial fishing" and recommended that additional analysis be completed before the definition is changed. The commenter noted that commercial fishing includes specific permitting, reporting and operational requirements and that simply trying to sell fish does not make that person a commercial fisher. The commenter asked how the definition considers charter or for-hire captains that are permitted to sell their catch. Lastly, the commenter questioned how attempts to fish commercially would be enforced.

Response: NOAA reviewed the proposed modification to the definition of the term "commercial fishing" in light of the concerns raised by the commenter and has decided not to finalize the proposed modification to the definition. NOAA will continue to evaluate the proposed modification and may revisit this issue in a subsequent rulemaking.

5. Comment: One commenter questioned the modification of the term "conventional hook and line gear" and recommended that additional analysis be completed before the definition is changed. They indicated that the implications of removing the term "bottom" in the term "bottom longline" are uncertain and it is unclear why "bottom longline" is not considered "conventional hook and line gear." The commenter also asked about the implications of the change for pelagic longline and buoy gear. The commenter further asked whether the length of the gear (e.g., the mainline) or number of hooks deployed or the material of the mainline impact the applicability of the term "conventional hook and line gear."

Response: In Flower Garden Banks NMS, "conventional hook and line gear" is an exception to various regulatory prohibitions relating to the discharge or deposit of material within the sanctuary, injuring fish, whale shark and other sanctuary resources identified in the site-specific regulations at 922.122(a)(3)(i)(A) and (a)(7)–(10). Related to this sanctuary's regulations, "conventional hook and line gear" is inclusive of any fishing gear composed of a single line terminated by a combination of sinkers and hooks or lures. The definition of "conventional hook and line gear" was first introduced with the designation Flower Garden Banks NMS, which is the only site that uses the term. Historically, longline, particularly bottom longline, has been excluded from the definition of "conventional hook and line gear" (56 FR 64634; Dec. 5, 1991). According to the 1991 Flower Garden Banks NMS Final Environmental Impact Statement (FGBNMS FMP/FEIS), handlines were the only commercial fishing method documented at Flower Garden Banks NMS at the time of the designation and were particularly used for reef fish (see p. 40, FGBNMS FMP/FEIS). The use of bottom longlines and similar gear (such as buoy gear) was and still remains prohibited at Flower Garden Banks NMS pursuant to regulations implementing the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Plan for Coral and Coral Reefs (see p. 40, FGBNMS FMP/FEIS; see e.g., 50 CFR 622.74(p), (q), and (r)). Sport fishermen also used handlines to fish for snappers and groupers (see p. 40–41, FGBNMS FMP/FEIS). Since longline (including pelagic and buoy gear) is a single line fitted with a series of offshoot lines (ganglions) and baited hooks along its entire length, it does not fit within the definition of "conventional hook and line gear," which is a single line terminated by a combination of sinkers and hooks or lures. The purpose of this rulemaking is not to make substantive changes to the definition; rather, the purpose, as noted in the 2013 proposed rule, is to clarify that the fishing gear prohibition applies to all types of longlines in Flower Garden Banks NMS, and not just bottom longlines (78 FR 5998, 6001; Jan. 28, 2013). The length of the longline mainline, numbers of hooks along the offshoot lines, and material of the mainline does not impact the applicability of the term "conventional hook and line" as this term applies to the site-specific regulations for Flower Garden Banks NMS.

6. Comment: One commenter expressed concerns that the changes between the proposed rule and the interim final rule regarding the definition of the term “take (taking or taken)” limits its applicability to marine mammals, sea turtles and birds with protections under those laws identified (the Endangered Species Act (ESA), the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA), and the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (MBTA)), and asserted that the final definition excludes animals that were proposed to be included. The commenter asked that NOAA provide additional information about the impacts of this rulemaking on ESA-listed species and suggested that the changes to the definition of “take (taking or taken)” may affect listed species and therefore may require consultation under Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act.

Response: The proposed rule sought to reformat and update the existing definition of “take or taking.” The proposed definition of “take or taking” also included a fourth provision intended to clarify that the definition did not only apply to marine mammals, sea turtles, or birds, but also applied to other sanctuary resources. In response to public comments concerned that the proposed definition of “take or taking” inadvertently expanded the scope of the existing regulatory prohibitions (see interim final rule Comment 24 in Section IV. Responses to Comments), NOAA revised the proposed definition by eliminating the fourth provision. For site-specific regulations that prohibit take of other living or non-living sanctuary resources (e.g., 15 CFR 922.112(a); 922.132(11)(i); 922.163(a)(2), (5); 922.164(d)(ii)), the plain language reading of the term “take (taking or taken)” continues to apply. In this final rule (as in the interim final rule), NOAA neither expands nor narrows the scope of the term “take” which applies to species listed under the ESA, MMPA, or MBTA. This action makes no change to the current definition of the term “take” as it applies to ESA-listed marine mammals, sea turtles, and seabirds. Therefore, ONMS does not believe there is a substantive impact on ESA-listed species, or that the Section 7 ESA consultation requirement is triggered.

7. Comment: NOAA received comments that raised concerns regarding limiting administrative permit appeals to applicants and holders of permits. These comments asserted that all sanctuaries should allow third parties to have an opportunity for an administrative appeal of ONMS permit decisions. The commenters also noted that, eliminating third party permit appeals, would force third parties to litigate sanctuary permitting concerns in federal court.

Response: NOAA declines to extend third party appeals to all sites. However, in response to public comment on the interim final rule, NOAA will retain the existing opportunity for third party sanctuary permit appeals in sites in the System that currently afford such appeals. If NOAA chooses to propose changes to the appellant pool at some point in the future, NOAA would do so through a separate rulemaking. NOAA notes that interested third parties may also provide meaningful input to the permit process and the underlying sanctuary regulations, through a variety of other mechanisms, including public review and comment of associated environmental analyses as part of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process or other statutory processes, as applicable.

8. Comment: NOAA received comments that raised concerns about an existing ONMS permit approval authority referred to as ONMS authorization (found in the interim final rule and this final rule at new section 15 CFR 922.36), which allows the ONMS Director to allow an applicant to conduct an otherwise prohibited activity if the proposed activity is permitted by another valid federal, state, or local agency. Commenters asserted that another agency’s permit authority should not override ONMS regulatory prohibitions that were established during sanctuary designation or subsequent regulatory revisions. They also asserted that a public review and comment process should be required before an ONMS authorization for the prohibited activity is issued.

Response: The ONMS authorization authority is an existing type of permit approval authority that the Director may rely upon to allow otherwise prohibited activities within certain National Marine Sanctuaries (i.e., Flower Garden Banks, Monterey Bay, Stellwagen Bank, Olympic Coast, Florida Keys, Thunder Bay, Mallow Bay-Potomac River, and Wisconsin Shipwreck Coast), where such activities are permitted by another valid Federal, State, or local agency. The Director must consider a suite of review criteria to decide whether to issue an ONMS authorization and what terms and conditions should be applied to an ONMS authorization. Utilization of this long-standing ONMS authorization authority can function to minimize administrative burdens on the regulated community while retaining the Director’s ability to safeguard sanctuary resources and effectively manage those sanctuaries. NOAA’s revisions to the regulatory provisions on ONMS authorization (as found in new section 15 CFR 922.36) are intended to clarify—not substantively alter—the existing ONMS authorization authority, which was previously codified at 15 CFR 922.49. Through this action, NOAA is not expanding the existing ONMS authorization authority or creating a new authority. Therefore, this comment is beyond the scope of this action. We also note that, as with other ONMS permit approvals, the public may provide input to the permit process through other mechanisms, including public review and comment of associated environmental analyses as part of the NEPA process or other statutory processes, as applicable.

9. Comment: One commenter asked NOAA to further regulate primary threats to ESA-listed species in NMSs, including those threats that result from fishing activities. The commenter specifically raised concerns about language in 15 CFR 922.5 that states, “[t]he Director may only directly regulate fishing activities pursuant to the procedure set forth in section 304(a)(5) of the NMSA.” The commenter asserted that it is inconsistent with a provision in Section 2(c) of the ESA that establishes that it is “the policy of Congress that all Federal departments and agencies shall seek to conserve endangered species and threatened species and shall utilize their authorities in furtherance of the purposes of this Act.” They further stated that the ESA defines “conservation” to mean “the use of all methods and procedures which are necessary to bring any endangered species or threatened species to the point at which the measures provided pursuant to the [ESA] are no longer necessary.”

Response: This action is intended to promulgate administrative updates to the existing sanctuary regulations (15 CFR part 922) to make them more consistent, uniform, concise, organized, and understandable. The commenter’s request for NOAA to promulgate additional regulatory protections to address primary threats to ESA-listed species in NMSs is a substantive change that is beyond the scope of this action. Thus, the commenter’s request to promulgate additional regulatory protections is declined.

10. Comment: One commenter recommended that NOAA update 15 CFR 922.122(h) to include renewable energy leases. These regulations relate to the limitation on the ability of ONMS to issue permits for the exploration for, development of, or production of oil, gas, or minerals in a no-activity zone in the Flower Garden Banks NMS.

Response: This action is intended to promulgate administrative updates to the existing sanctuary regulations (15 CFR part 922) to make them more consistent, uniform, concise, organized, and understandable. Adding a new restriction on ONMS permitting authority for renewable energy leases would be a substantive revision to the regulations that is beyond the scope of this rulemaking. Accordingly, the commenter's request to update 15 CFR 922.122(h) to include renewable energy leases is declined.

V. Classification

A. National Environmental Policy Act²

NOAA Administrative Order (NAO) 216–6A and the Companion Manual for NAO 216–6A (<https://www.nepa.noaa.gov/docs/NOAA-NAO-216-6A-Companion-Manual-01132017.pdf>) establish NOAA's policy and procedures for compliance with NEPA and the associated Council on Environmental Quality's regulations. NAO 216–6A, Environmental Review Procedures, requires all proposed actions to be reviewed with respect to environmental consequences on the human environment.

In the proposed rule (78 FR 5998; January 28, 2013), NOAA stated that it was preparing a draft environmental assessment (EA) to analyze the potential environmental impacts of the proposed rulemaking and that the draft EA would be released for public comment. The analysis in the draft EA would have focused on analyzing the potential environmental impacts of the consolidated definition of motorized personal watercraft (MPWC). Based on public comment received on the proposed rule, NOAA decided to withdraw the proposal to consolidate the MPWC definition and it was not included in the interim final rule. As a result, NOAA determined that preparation of a draft EA was not necessary for this rule. NOAA determined that, because the interim final rule included only technical and administrative changes to regulatory text, it fell within the criteria of a categorical exclusion in Appendix E of the NOAA NEPA Companion Manual, specifically categorical exclusion reference number G7 (“Preparation of policy directives, rules, regulations, and guidelines of an administrative, financial, legal, technical, or procedural nature, or for which the environmental effects are too broad, speculative or conjectural to lend themselves to meaningful analysis and will be subject later to the NEPA process, either collectively or on a case-by-case basis.”) NOAA considered the list of extraordinary circumstances and determined that none would be triggered by this final rule. Therefore, NOAA determined that this final rule would not result in significant effects to the human environment and is categorically excluded from the need to prepare an EA.

B. Executive Orders 12866 and 13563

This rule has been determined to be not significant within the meaning of Executive Order 12866. The rule is part of NOAA's effort to carry out the directive under Executive Order 13563 for retrospective regulatory review.

C. Executive Order 13175: Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments

Pursuant to Executive Order 13175, NOAA consults with federally-recognized tribes on actions that may have tribal implications. NOAA determined that the amendments to the Olympic Coast NMS permitting regulations in the consolidation of permit procedures and review criteria into the new subpart D, although not resulting in a substantive change to permitting requirements, could be perceived as having tribal implications because some of the regulatory text is specific to the federally-recognized tribes along the Washington Coast (Coastal Treaty Tribes). Therefore, we have determined that this regulation has tribal implications as defined in Executive Order 13175. NOAA certifies that this final rule was developed after meaningful consultation and collaboration with tribal representatives in accordance with Executive Order 13175. NOAA engaged in government-to-government consultation with tribal representatives from the Makah, Hoh and Quileute Indian Tribes and the Quinault Indian Nation of the Olympic Coast Intergovernmental Policy Council (IPC). NOAA determined that this regulatory action did not have implications for any other federally-recognized tribes at other sites.

In January 2012, NOAA initiated a dialogue with the Coastal Treaty Tribes for a potential rulemaking action that would revise and consolidate program-wide and site-specific regulations. ONMS staff presented initial items for consideration by the IPC and its members at a February 8, 2012, meeting. In May 2012, NOAA addressed initial concerns that were raised at the February meeting, provided a summary of the proposed regulatory changes, and invited the IPC members to consult if there were concerns about the general proposals. In October 2012, NOAA provided more detailed information, including pre-release draft regulatory language for program-wide regulations and Olympic Coast NMS site-specific regulations that could be of interest to the tribes. After the proposed rule was published in the Federal Register, NOAA forwarded the notice to the Washington Coast treaty tribes on February 15, 2013.

The Makah Tribe provided comments on the proposed rule that raised three priority issues. In addition to the matter noted in the “IV Responses to Comments” section of the interim final rule, the Makah Tribe reiterated its longstanding position about the role of the Regional Fishery Management Councils (RFMCs) in fisheries management, which did not require action in this rulemaking. The Makah Tribe also expressed interest in improved tribal involvement in the consideration of Olympic Coast NMS permit applications. Since the publication of the 2013 proposed rule, Olympic Coast NMS and the Makah Tribe engaged in government-to-government consultation in the development of a joint “Protocol for Permit Consultation” (dated April 10, 2015) that specifies the procedures by which consultation and coordinated communication will occur between the Makah Tribe and Olympic Coast NMS staff. The sanctuary staff and tribal representatives meet periodically to engage in permit consultations on ONMS permit applications, and the results of these meetings are included in ONMS permit decision documents. In addition, the Makah Tribe and ONMS have developed a protocol to engage in consultation as part of the NMSA section 304(d) interagency consultation process and have implemented the protocol in two recent sanctuary consultations. Olympic Coast NMS staff regularly engages with the Washington Coast treaty tribes on various initiatives of mutual interest.

² In 1978, the White House Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) issued regulations, codified at 40 CFR parts 1500–1508, to implement NEPA. 43 FR 55977 (Nov. 29, 1978). Most recently, the CEQ updated the NEPA regulations. 85 FR 43304 (Jul. 16, 2020) (codified at 40 CFR parts 1500–1508, 1515–1518). Pursuant to those updated NEPA regulations, NEPA reviews initiated prior to September 14, 2020 may be conducted using the 1978 version of the regulations. The effective date of the 2020 CEQ NEPA Regulations was September 14, 2020. This review began before January 13, 2013, and NOAA has decided to proceed under the 1978 regulations.

D. Executive Order 13132: Federalism Assessment

NOAA has concluded this regulatory action does not have federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a federalism assessment under Executive Order 13132.

E. Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not create any new information collection requirements, nor does it change existing information collection requirements approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB Control Number 0648–0141) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. (PRA). There are no changes to the reporting burden as a result of these regulatory changes. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the PRA, unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB Control Number.

F. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) requires Federal agencies to prepare an analysis of a rule's impact on small entities whenever the agency is required to publish a rule, unless the head of the agency can certify, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 605(b), that the action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Pursuant to section 605(b), the Chief Counsel for Regulations for the Department of Commerce, certified to the Office of Advocacy of the Small Business Administration during the 2013 proposed rule stage and the 2022 interim rule stage that the regulations would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The factual basis for certification was published in the proposed rule (78 FR 5998, 6009; January 18, 2011) and in the interim final rule (87 FR 29606, 29625; May 13, 2022). No public comments were received regarding this certification. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis was not required and none was prepared.

§ 922.1 Purposes and applicability of the regulations.

- (a) The purposes of this part are:
 - (1) To implement title III of the Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act of 1972, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1431 et seq., also known as the National Marine Sanctuaries Act (NMSA or Act)), the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary and Protection Act (FKNMSPA) (Pub. L. 101–605) and the Hawaiian Islands National Marine Sanctuary Act (sections 2301–2307 of Pub. L. 102–587); and
 - (2) To implement the designations of the national marine sanctuaries, for which site specific regulations appear in subparts F through T of this part, by regulating activities affecting them, consistent with their respective terms of designation, in order to protect, restore, preserve, manage, and thereby ensure the health, integrity and continued availability of the conservation, recreational, ecological, historical, scientific, educational, cultural, archeological and aesthetic resources and qualities of these areas.

(b) The regulations of this part are binding on any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. Designation of a national marine sanctuary beyond the U.S. territorial sea does not constitute any claim to territorial jurisdiction on the part of the United States. The regulations of this part shall be applied in accordance with generally recognized principles of international law,¹ and in accordance with treaties, conventions, and other agreements to which the United States is a party. No regulation of this part shall apply to a person who is not a citizen, national, or resident alien of the United States, unless in accordance with:

(1) Generally recognized principles of international law;

(2) An agreement between the United States and the foreign state of which the person is a citizen; or

(3) An agreement between the United States and the flag state of the foreign vessel, if the person is a crew member of the vessel.

(c) Unless noted otherwise, the regulations in this subpart and subpart D of this part apply to all national marine sanctuaries immediately upon designation.

§ 922.2 Mission, goals, and special policies.

(a) In accordance with the standards set forth in the Act, the mission of the Office of National Marine Sanctuaries (Office) is to identify, designate, protect, restore, and manage areas of the marine environment of special national, and in some cases international, significance due to their conservation, recreational, ecological, historical, scientific, educational, cultural, archeological, or aesthetic resources and qualities.

(b) The goal of the Office is to carry out the mission of the Act in a manner consistent with the purposes and policies of the Act (16 U.S.C. 1431(b)); the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary and Protection Act (Pub. L. 101–605) which designated Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary; the Hawaiian Islands National Marine Sanctuary and Protection Act (Pub. L. 102–587), which designated Hawaiian Islands Humpback Whale National Marine Sanctuary; the Oceans Act of 1992 (Pub. L. 102–587), which designated Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary; and the National Marine Sanctuaries Preservation Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–283), which added Stetson Bank to Flower Garden Banks National Marine Sanctuary.

(c) Management efforts will be coordinated to the extent practicable with other countries managing marine protected areas;

(d) Program regulations, policies, standards, guidelines, and procedures developed pursuant to the Act concerning the identification, evaluation, registration, and treatment of historical resources shall be consistent, to the extent practicable, with the declared national policy for the protection and preservation of these resources as stated in the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, 54 U.S.C. 300101 et seq., the Archeological and Historical Preservation Act of 1974, 54 U.S.C. 312501 et seq., and the Archeological Resources Protection Act of 1979 (ARPA), 16 U.S.C. 470aa et seq. The same degree of regulatory protection and preservation planning policy extended to historical resources on land shall be extended, to the extent practicable, to historical resources in the marine environment within the boundaries of designated national marine sanctuaries. The management of historical resources under the authority of the Act shall be consistent, to the extent practicable, with the Federal archeological program by consulting the Uniform Regulations, ARPA (43 CFR part 7) and other relevant Federal regulations. The Secretary of the Interior's Standards and Guidelines for Archeology may also be consulted for guidance.

§ 922.3 Issuance of regulations for fishing.

If a proposed Sanctuary includes waters within the exclusive economic zone, the Secretary shall notify the appropriate Regional Fishery Management Council(s). The appropriate Council(s) shall have one hundred and eighty (180) days from the date of such notification to make recommendations and, if appropriate, prepare draft fishing regulations for the area within the exclusive economic zone and submit them to the Secretary. In preparing its recommendations and draft regulations, the Council(s) shall use as guidance the national standards of section 301(a) of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (16 U.S.C. 1851) to the extent that they are consistent and compatible with the goals and objectives of the proposed Sanctuary designation. Any fishing activities not proposed for regulation under section 304(a)(5) of the NMSA may be listed in the draft Sanctuary designation document as being subject to regulation, without following the procedures specified in section 304(a)(5) of the NMSA. If the Secretary subsequently determines that regulation of fishing is necessary, then NOAA will follow the procedures specified in section 304(a)(5) of the NMSA.

§ 922.4 Boundaries.

The boundaries for each of the fifteen National Marine Sanctuaries covered by this part are described in subparts F through T, respectively.

(b) Regulations setting forth the procedures governing administrative proceedings for assessment of civil penalties, permit sanctions and denials for enforcement reasons, issuance and use of written warnings, and release or forfeiture of seized property appear at 15 CFR part 904.

§ 922.9 Response costs and damages.

Under section 312 of the Act, any person who destroys, causes the loss of, or injures any Sanctuary resource is liable to the United States for response costs and damages resulting from such destruction, loss, or injury. Any vessel used to destroy, cause the loss of, or injure any Sanctuary resource is liable in rem to the United States for response costs and damages resulting from such destruction, loss, or injury.

§ 922.10 Pre-existing authorizations or rights and certifications of pre-existing authorizations or rights.

Any valid lease, permit, license, or right of subsistence use or of access that is in existence on the effective date of final regulations for a designation or revised terms of designation of any National Marine Sanctuary may not be terminated by the Director. (e) A determination that a site is eligible for national marine sanctuary designation, by itself shall not subject the site to any regulatory control under the Act. Such controls may only be imposed after designation.

§ 922.13 Selection of nominated areas for national marine sanctuary designation.

(a) The Director may select a nominated area from the inventory for future consideration as a national marine sanctuary.

(b) Selection of a nominated area from the inventory shall begin the formal sanctuary designation process. Subpart R—Thunder Bay Bank National Marine Sanctuary and Underwater Preserve

■ 53. Amend § 922.190 by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 922.190 Boundary.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary and Underwater Preserve (Sanctuary) consists of an area of approximately 3,247 square nautical miles (nmi²) (4,300 sq. mi.) of waters of Lake Huron and the submerged lands thereunder, over, around, and under the underwater cultural resources in Thunder Bay. The eastern boundary of the sanctuary begins at the intersection of the southern Alcona County boundary and the U.S./Canada international boundary (Point 1). The eastern boundary of the sanctuary approximates the international boundary passing through Points 2–5. The boundary continues west through Point 6 and then back to the northeast until it intersects with the 45.83333° N line of latitude at Point 7. The northern boundary follows the line of latitude 45.83333° N westward until it intersects the - 84.33333° W line of longitude at Point 8. The western boundary extends south along the - 84.33333° W line of longitude towards Point 9 until it intersects the ordinary high water mark at Cordwood Point. From there, the western boundary follows the ordinary high water mark as defined by Part 325, Great Lakes Submerged Lands, of P.A. 451 (1994), as amended, cutting across the mouths of rivers and streams until it intersects the line formed between Point 10 and Point 11 south of Rogers City, MI. From there the boundary moves offshore through Points 11–15 in order until it intersects the ordinary high water mark along the line formed between Point 15 and Point 16. At this intersection the boundary continues to follow the ordinary high water mark south until it intersects with the line formed between Point 17 and Point 18 near Stoneport Harbor Light in Presque Isle, MI.

(1) The State Archaeologist certifies to NOAA that the activity authorized under the State Permit will be conducted consistent with the Programmatic Agreement, in which case such State Permit shall be deemed to have met the requirements of subpart D of this part; or

(2) In the case where the State Archaeologist does not certify that the activity to be authorized under a State Permit will be conducted consistent with the Programmatic Agreement, the person complies with the requirements of subpart D of this part.

(b) In instances where the conduct of an activity is prohibited by § 922.193(a)(1) through (3) is not addressed under a State or other Federal lease, license, permit or other authorization, a person may conduct such activity if it is specifically authorized by and conducted in accordance with the scope, purpose, terms, and conditions of a permit issued pursuant to subpart D of this part and the Programmatic Agreement.
